WAR OF WORDS

Fury as TA branch is closed to save cash

BREAKING NEWS: Last week's Star exclusive

As Government retreats over TA budget cuts, Tory blasts decision to disband town branch

CONSERVATIVE Parliamentary hopeful Robert Halfon has called on Harlow MP Bill Rammell to reverse the decision to disband the town's branch of the Territorial Army.

Mr Halfon branded the merger of the town's 882 troop with 907 Essex Yeomanry in Chelmsford as a "massive slap in the face" to reservists.

Mr Halfon said the decision - exclusively reported in last week's Star - was ludicrous and said Mr Rammell should use his position as Minister for Armed Forces to save the group.

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"Will Mr Rammell back down in the constituency interest and stop Harlow TA from being disbanded?" he said. "As Armed Forces Minister and Harlow MP, he should do more to stand up for Harlow TA."

He said the Harlow branch occupied a better strategic position to take volunteers than neighbouring centres in Chelmsford and Hertford, which will remain unaffected.

The challenge came as the Government backed down on controversial plans to slash £20million from the TA's training budget.

The Prime Minister told Parliament yesterday (Wednesday) that the Treasury had found the cash and full TA training would continue.

Mr Rammell said: "There are two separate exercises affecting the TA in Harlow as a result of the upgrade in the MoD communications technology which affects many TA bases across the country and which will save £32.5m."

It would, he said, be "grossly irresponsible" not to take the opportunity to make savings to fund frontline services in Afghanistan, adding: "The Tories did not call on us to change this decision."

He said that the decision to reinstate full TA training for the next six months came as

School hit by sickness should reopen after break

AN outbreak of suspected swine flu is believed to be one of the reasons why a Harlow secondary school was forced to close just two days before the start of the half-term break.

As reported in last week's Star, a large number of pupils failed to turn up for lessons at Passmores School, in Tendring Road, last Wednesday because of sickness and more were sent home the same afternoon after complaining of flu-like symptoms.

The Star understands that a total of 10 cases of the H1N1 virus – seven in pupils and three in members of staff – have since been confirmed.

"More students were taken ill throughout Wednesday with symptoms such as sickness and diarrhoea," said headteacher Vic Goddard.

"Unfortunately it seems as though we've been hit by a few bugs at the same time – we've also had reports of a vomiting bug and tonsillitis – which resulted in a large number of pupils unable to come into school."

The school has been closed since Thursday, but Mr Goddard said this was not to do with the sickness itself but to insufficient staff numbers, with approximately 30 reporting illness.

He said he remained optimistic the school would open as usual after the half-term break.

A spokeswoman for Essex County Council added: "We are not putting any procedures in place but ask schools to follow the NUS and health agencies' advice."

Hospital staff first to get swine flu jab

FRONTLINE staff at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital have become the first to receive vaccinations against swine flu.

The hospital trust took delivery of 1,500 doses of the H1N1 vaccine last week and has been inoculating staff working in key areas of the hospital including the accident and emergency department and intensive care unit.

Other staff will be invited to have the jab as the programme is rolled out by the hospital's occupational health team.

Some patients in high risk groups will also be vaccinated, but most people are being advised to go to their GPs who should be receiving stocks of the drug in the next few days. Seasonal or winter flu vaccination sessions will continue at the hospital as normal throughout November.

Medical director Dr Sandra Dimmock said: "We are urging all staff to have the vaccination to protect themselves, their patients and their families."

"The trust has well practised plans in place to deal with the anticipated steep demand for services if and when the pandemic bites, particularly increasing critical care capacity, and ensuring staff are available to cover key areas."

"This, in turn, may mean other services being suspended or curtailed during the period of greatest pressure and we will be keeping our patients up to date with developments and working closely with the primary care trust and strategic health authority."

Teen thief is given a rent-paid home

ONE of the country's most prolific teenage thieves has walked free from court – despite owning up to hundreds of offences in which cash and goods totalling more than £1m were stolen.

Bradley Wernham (18), formerly of Orchard Croft, Harlow, targeted churches, pubs and homes and stole valuable cars during his six-year one-man crime

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

spree in Essex.

Yet despite pleading guilty to 20 offences and asking for another 645 to be taken into account, Wernham was spared a jail sentence. Instead he was ordered to complete 150 hours of unpaid work and given a three-year community order with the requirement he attends rehabilitation, training and education courses.

In addition, he and his partner have been allocated a rent-paid home at an undisclosed address in Chelmsford.

Passing sentence, Judge Christopher Ball accepted he was dealing with Wernham in a wholly exceptional way, adding: "This is a unique solution; we are holding our breaths."

"To find someone who owns up to over 640 offences covering a six-year period whilst he has another 20-odd before court is a very, very unusual situation," said the judge. "It comes about because you are beginning to grow up and seem determined to stop and because you assisted the police so much over a long period of time."

The judge added that the sentence had the full backing of the police.

Vehicles stolen by Wernham included two Mercedes worth £85,000, an Audi RS4 and a Porsche Caymen – both valued at £50,000 – and a £30,000 Land Rover Discovery.

The offences to which he pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court took place between February 1, 2006 – when he stole two vehicles parked outside a Harlow church – and March 31 this year when he stole £1,284 from fruit machines at The Greyhound pub in School Lane.

James Howard, representing Wernham, said in mitigation police had provided rented accommodation for Wernham and his partner in Chelmsford and would "continue to be pro-active", seeing him twice a week.

The judge said of the defendant: "He's worked with the police to identify hundreds and hundreds of offences and to his credit he has stuck with it and needs to be commended for that. It all stands him in good stead."

But he warned Wernham he would almost certainly face a custodial sentence if he was brought back before the court for breaching the conditions of his community order.

Marathon man Justin runs as a tribute to mum

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW builder is warming up to run the New York Marathon on Sunday in memory of his mother who died of cancer a year ago.

Justin Clifton (38), of Mark Hall Moors, has already raised more than £1,800 for Cancer Research UK but has set himself a target of £2,500.

Justin, pictured right, is a keen runner but this is the first time he has attempted the marathon.

"I run about 30-40 miles a week but recently I've been building up longer mileage," he said.

"I've stepped up to doing a 16-mile run once a week and I've done a 20-mile run once, but I want to save doing the full distance for the marathon.

"It's going to be hard but I'm hoping to do it in 3½ hours. If I can do that I'll be really pleased."

Justin's mum, Peggy, died on October 24 last year at the age of 60.

"She used to raise a lot of money for charity so I wanted to do the same," he said. "It would be a fitting tribute to her as she worked in a lot of charity shops and even walked the Great Wall of China to raise money.

"For the last eight or 10 years of her life everything she did was for charity."

Justin left for New York yesterday (Wednesday) with wife Debbie and their six-year-old twins Lenny and Sadie. They will be staying in the US for five days.

Cancer Research UK supports research into all aspects of cancer through the work of more than 4,250 scientists, doctors and nurses.

Spurs stopper joins the Kickz kids

TOTTENHAM Hotspur goalkeeper Heurelho Gomes took time out from between the sticks at White Hart Lane to visit the club's community youth project in Harlow.

The Brazilian shot-stopper dropped by the Blue Rooms at Brays House, in Traces Road, where the club has been holding Kickz sessions since February. Kickz is a national programme to create safer, stronger and more respectful communities.

It offers 12-18 year-old boys and girls the chance to take part in a range of free sports and activities and runs workshops three nights a week on issues such as alcohol abuse and the dangers of gun and knife crime.

Harlow Kickz is run in partnership with Harlow Council, Essex Police, Essex County Council, Kier Harlow and the Safer Harlow Partnership.

Gomez, who joined in a number of activities during his visit, said afterwards: "It was a pleasure for me to visit what is clearly a successful and an extremely positive project the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation are running here.

"As players we are well aware of the work our club is doing off the pitch to help young people in the community and we are always happy to show our faces in support."

Daring dad's charity visit

A FORMER winner of the Harvey Centre's Daring Dad competition has visited youngsters who benefited from his fundraising exploits.

Eric Rogers, his wife Rowen and son Oak met up with the children and volunteers at PACT Harlow and Accuro to see how the money he raised has been spent.

Mr and Mrs Rogers know the challenges of caring for a child with additional needs and have themselves received help from both charities.

As last year's Harvey Centre Daring Dad, Mr Rogers raised £600 by completing a week of challenges including walking barefoot on broken glass and breaking breeze blocks with his elbow.

"It was great to go along to the regular Saturday trampolining session with Rowen and Oak to see all the kids and to know that we have made a contribution towards the important and difficult work these charities do," he said.

Night out in the town for drug search police dogs

POLICE dogs trained to sniff out drugs were deployed in Harlow on Friday night as part of an on-going operation to crack down on crime.

Officers visited eight licensed premises and searched 16 people. Three were given cautions for possessing cannabis while two others were arrested for possession of a class A drug.

The dogs used in the operation, codenamed Napalm and run by the Safer Harlow Partnership, can follow the trail of 12 different substances including cocaine, heroin and cannabis.

Inspector Tom Mitchell, of Harlow police, said: "I would like to thank the management and staff of the clubs and pubs for once again welcoming the dogs onto their premises and supporting our efforts to deter drug misuse in and around licensed premises."

"The dogs worked well and enjoyed the friendly attention of customers."

Nick Churchill, chairman of Harlow Council's licensing committee, added: "This is a regular exercise we carry out with the co-operation of local premises."

"This latest action will send out a strong warning to those who are thinking about bringing drugs with them on a night out in Harlow."

Assault accused appears in court

A MAN wanted for assault and burglary has appeared in court.

Alan Stevens (25) is alleged to have assaulted two women at a flat in Brockles Mead, Harlow, on September 26.

Magistrates heard on Monday that Stevens, of no fixed address, also faces allegations of making a threat to kill and committing a public order offence in August.

Stevens was remanded in custody pending the first of two appearances at Chelmsford Crown Court where he will answer the charges relating to the August offences.

He is due to return to the same court on January 18 on the assault and burglary charges.

'I've been living in a death trap'

SHOCKED: Sharon Livett in the front room of her home where workmen exposed deadly asbestos

A SEVERELY disabled woman fears her health may have been further compromised after workmen exposed deadly asbestos fibres in the front room of her home.

Surveyors inspecting Sharon Livett's home in Abbotsweld ahead of a planned kitchen refurbishment told her they had found a dangerous quantity of the toxic building material.

It had been exposed by workmen when they were trying to find the source of a leak in February.

But the asbestos was not removed or made safe and paraplegic Ms Livett, who is housebound, fears she could have been breathing in harmful asbestos fibres for the past nine months.

"I was absolutely shocked when the surveyors told me what they had found in my own front room," she told the Star.

"I'm completely beside myself. Goodness knows what damage this has done to my long-term health and the health of anyone visiting me."

"Because of the incompetence of workmen supposedly trained to deal with problems like this, my home has been turned into a death trap without me even realising. It makes me sick to my stomach."

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

The inhalation of asbestos fibres can cause life-threatening illnesses including lung cancer, mesothelioma and asbestosis, which may not develop for many years after initial exposure.

Now Ms Livett, who was left paralysed 12 years ago after contracting transverse myelitis following a routine flu jab, has been told she must visit her GP for a chest x-ray and warn anyone who has visited her home in the past nine months to do the same.

The original work was carried out by Harlow Council maintenance contractor Kier Harlow.

Operations manager John Phillips said the material had now been made safe and air tests carried out by the council showed there were no traces of the material in the air.

"Kier Harlow has robust processes and procedures in place to ensure all asbestos-related works are dealt with safely and in line with current best practice and legislative requirements," he said.

"We are committed to ensuring that the containment and treatment of asbestos remains in line with our stringent procedures."

"A full investigation has therefore been instigated to ensure these procedures have been adhered to in this instance."

a result of a direct appeal to the Prime Minister.

"The Chief of General Staff [General Sir David Richards] recommended that we save an additional £20m. However, as a result of discussions between myself, the Secretary of State and the Prime Minister on Tuesday night the Treasury has agreed to give the MoD £20m extra."

"It enables us to continue training of TA personnel who do such a superb job on all our behalf."

One former Harlow signaller said he was delighted by the U-turn. "I was shocked when I heard the decision; it just goes to show democracy works," he said.

"The merger was always going to happen but the proposed training cutback was the last nail in the coffin. Now we are very pleased."

Cold facts about global warming

SIR, In reply to Edna Stevens (Letters, October 22), I feel that I must write as a voice of reason in this madness which is so called global warming.

The cold facts are that if Britain stopped producing any climate-damaging pollution we could only realistically affect two per cent of the global levels of pollution. This is in stark contrast to the USA, China and Russia which pump out millions of tons of toxic gases every day. In the past couple of years alone China has built 50 new coal-fuelled power stations.

In answer to countries signing an international deal, this will be meaningless unless they abandon the capitalist economic system that depends on and produces the waste in the first place. This they will never do.

The reason the UK Government constantly goes on about the environment is that this presents the ideal opportunity to raise taxes which we have seen with the constant rise in fuel duties we have to pay, particularly if you drive a car. It is a fact that pollution from cars has very little effect on the global air quality. If the Government was serious about this it would flood the country in free low carbon footprint buses such as those powered by LPG, but it still relies on the private sector to provide the expensive poor services that it has done for some years.

So-called recycling should also not be confused with saving the planet. The reason councils are so set on recycling is that the Government has raised landfill taxes year on year and the actual cost of recycling the cardboard and newspapers we religiously put out every week produces far more emissions than the cost of new. The answer to the landfill problem is modern industrial incinerators with water scrubbers which release hardly any toxic emissions.

I don't think anyone can deny that there are green issues that need to be addressed but they need to be got into proportion. The globe has not suddenly started to warm up; it is a fact that it has been warming and cooling for millions of years and the only difference is that now we have the technology to measure it.

Tony Hadden
Keefield, Harlow

SIR, Rather than pick on a rather obscure Conservative MP as a climate change denier, local Labour Party vice-chair Edna Stevens should instead have looked inwards and upwards for a more blatant example.

Last year ministers spent £8m of our money on cars. Each minister is allocated a vehicle whose size is determined by status and position in the pecking order.

The Attorney General has insisted on being given a ministerial Jaguar, a privilege reserved for only a few very senior ministers, despite the fact she is only entitled to a car with CO₂ emissions of less than 130kg/km. With Gordon Brown's permission she is cruising around in a car with emissions of a staggering 209kg/km.

Instead of appearing on the world stage at Copenhagen and attempting to save the planet, it would be better if the Prime Minister stayed at home, saved his breath, reduced his air miles and carbon footprint and got to grips with events that he actually has some influence over.

Meanwhile, Edna can console herself that as a loyal New Labour foot soldier, when she leaves the car at home and gets on her bike she is helping reduce the damage done to the planet by the great and the good in her party.

Betrayal of the working classes

SIR, Am I living on the same planet as Nick Gunning? (Letters, October 22). I think not because his take on the economy and Labour's part in its devastation is quite remarkable.

One truth for sure is the fact that when Gordon Brown is finally kicked out of office, there will be a mountain to climb by whichever party is unfortunate enough to have to follow 12 years of his and Tony Blair's total disregard of the working class, who I define as people who actually go out to work rather than stay at home on benefit.

Certainly, the many, many thousands who have been forced into unemployment by the Government's profligate spending of money we don't have will have little love for a political body that was once a great defender of the less advantaged.

Blame the recession on the rest of the world? What a cop out! De-skill a nation? What poppycock!

The simple truth is we have been paying ourselves far too much for donkey's years, demanded ever cheaper goods and, not being able to make them here because no one wanted to work in factories, bought them from Hong-Kong, Taiwan and, more recently, from China and India. Another simple truth is the fact that Blair has become an extremely wealthy man, along with an army of bankers who, just like MPs, now say they did nothing illegal in filling their pockets with Brown's full approval.

I have little love or respect for the Tories and even less for the Liberals Democrats but they are pure amateurs in comparison to Labour at the business of bringing a once-proud and mighty nation to the Third World status that we have almost reached before (if ever) we reach a point where the damage wreaked by 12 years of Brown and his greedy cohorts is repaired.

Long wait for a hospital transfer

SIR, My mother, who is 81, has been in Princess Alexandra Hospital for over three weeks having been diagnosed with a tumour.

Let me say the treatment that she has and is receiving there is excellent. The issue and our cause for concern is she has now been waiting well over a week to be transferred to The Royal London Hospital in Whitechapel for a biopsy as Harlow does not have the facility to do this.

In our view this seems to be an unacceptable amount of time and we are wondering is this an ageism issue? Why if no beds are available in London can she not be transferred to, say, Addenbrookes in Cambridge or a specialist hospital that does have the said facility and a bed?

Right now she is bed blocking in Harlow when she should be in a specialist hospital elsewhere. In my view, the NHS appears to be suffocating in bureaucracy.

PM's garage sale of national assets

SIR, A national tabloid newspaper recently carried the front page headline "Payback time", reporting that Gordon Brown was being asked to repay about £12,000 of expenses he had claimed.

If I were Mr Brown I would rush forward, chequebook in hand, to repay this sum in full and final settlement because he is being let off very lightly. In truth he should be held responsible for the loss of at least £5bn which resulted from his crazy sale of a hefty portion of Britain's gold reserves at rock bottom prices, having previously announced to the world that he was going to do so.

As if that were not enough, he is now wanting to hold a garage sale with some of our remaining national assets. You don't have to be a financial genius to work out that whatever he sells will go for a knock-down price. What then will be left to sell if we are still broke?

You may remember the rogue trader Nick Leeson, whose crazy speculation with other people's money brought about the demise of the old-established and highly respected Barings Bank. I think his crimes only involved about £800m and he served time in jail, but then he wrote a book which was made into a film so he ended up rich and famous anyway. Mr Brown, for his part, has been recklessly ruining an entire nation. What will he get? Shall we see the book "How I ran amok at the Treasury" some time soon?

Councillor Joshua Jolles

I fear for safety of my grandson

SIR, It was no surprise to see our MP – the Minister for Armed Forces – amongst the congregation in St Paul's Cathedral at the Iraq war memorial service.

How this contrasts with the absence of any Cabinet representation at RAF Lyneham when the bodies of those who gave their lives, firstly in Iraq and now in Afghanistan, arrived home.

I am a grandmother and within the year my grandson is expecting to go to Afghanistan. I dread the thought of him going. All the nervousness that I suffered when three of my children served in Ulster and Cyprus – keeping apart two factions filled with hate – will return. This time it will be the nervousness of waiting for a knock on the door to say my grandson has been seriously wounded or killed.

By the time that might happen we will have a different Minister for the Armed Forces, but still the dead will be brought home and not honoured by those who sent them there.

Stores should be using paper bags

SIR, After reading all their stories about recycling, I would like to know why nobody has looked to all the large stores in our town that are still using plastic carrier bags.

Unlike all the others, Primark is the only store to be doing its part in helping our recycling programme by using paper carrier bags.

To be fair, there are some stores like Tesco and Sainsbury's which still use plastic carrier bags but that may be due to the fact that the products they sell – cans, bottles and jars – need a stronger bag. But I don't think you need a strong plastic bag for your new knickers, socks, jumpers or shirts.

SIR, So Harlow's new swimming pool opens in January, but will not be honouring the Government's promise for all pensioners to swim for free. Surely there is a duty on the council to provide a proper municipal pool that can be used for free by pensioners.

We need reform of voting system

SIR, The sniping by our local party politicians on the issue of MPs' expenses is in danger of detracting us from the real constitutional questions we should be addressing.

The issue is not the expenses scandal, still less about the individual sums our representatives have been persuaded to pay back. It is rather a matter of trust and representation.

If we can't trust our MPs to work out a fair system of remuneration for themselves, how can we trust them to allocate the rest of the money they take from us, let alone represent us in government? Those who have spent the past five years in Westminster without challenging the system, let alone taking advantage of it, should be made ineligible for future office.

We then must try to ensure that those who succeed there are really the people the electorate wish to replace them. For this there must not only be a fairer electoral system to ensure that MPs have at least a majority of support in their constituencies by a single transferable vote, but we should also introduce a primary system whereby voters are involved fully in the selection of individual candidates for each party rather than leave it to a handful of party hacks. That would ensure a greater selection and more representative number of candidates.

At present, the House of Commons in no way represents the common people. Surely we should be able to find in each constituency at least half a dozen people who would be better able to represent their electorate and hold the government of the day to account, which is their primary task.

Instead, it appears that we shall be replacing a New Labour autocratic government which has betrayed even those who voted for it, by an obscenely wealthy ex-Etonian and his chums who represent the top 10 per cent of our population, not the common people. Such people already control the House of Lords; can't they be satisfied with that?

We are already in danger of betraying all those who fought for democracy in the past and reverting to a medieval form of government by the overnight subject – a modern aristocracy. We need to insist upon immediate reform.

Safety review to allay fears of residents at fire-hit estate

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

AN independent fire safety review is to be carried out on all homes at a Harlow housing estate where a massive blaze destroyed two properties and damaged a further 10.

After weeks of campaigning by residents, local councillors and Harlow MP Bill Rammell, South Anglia Housing has agreed to fund a comprehensive inspection of homes at Berecroft.

A row of terraced homes on the estate was ravaged by fire back in July.

The blaze was started deliberately in one of the properties by 30-year-old Yuen Chow, who is currently awaiting sentence after pleading guilty to arson and reckless endangerment of life.

Concerned residents who attended a public meeting called in response to a confidential fire investigation report into the blaze accused the housing association of compromising the safety of their homes when the firm installed pitched roofs on all properties 10 years ago without removing the original flat roofing.

They claimed the original bitumen-coated roofing had contributed to the fire spreading and also questioned the integrity of the firewalls in the buildings.

When the meeting ended in deadlock, it was agreed to hold a second which took place on Friday during which representatives of the housing association announced it would pay for an independent fire safety review to give residents peace of mind.

If the inspection finds that building works undertaken were not carried out in accordance with building regulations, South Anglia will then undertake remedial works.

Any other problems brought to light by the survey which are not attributed to the original building work will be rectified by the association on tenant-owned properties only.

Afterwards, Mr Rammell said: "This is a real result for both South Anglia tenants and owner-occupiers on Berecroft."

"The fire investigation report raised some important questions about the structure of Berecroft homes and the independent safety review which South Anglia has now proposed should bring relief to Berecroft residents."

South Anglia managing

director Chris Allison added: "Following the incident of arson at Berecroft a few months ago, we have commissioned and will fully finance an independent safety review on homes on the estate."

"This independent safety review will be overseen by residents, owner-occupiers, Harlow Council and Mr Rammell."

"We have already communicated closely with residents as well as made ourselves available for any questions."

Man had hammer 'to protect himself'

Maisie's cake sets bells ringing

FIREFIGHTERS raced to the 90th birthday celebrations of one of the New Town's first residents after sparklers on her cake set off smoke alarms.

The cake was so loaded that it "went up like a fireworks display" said great great grandmother Maisie Howett.

The alarms at Latton Hall Close sheltered housing, where Mrs Howett lives, automatically alerted local firefighters and a crew rushed to her address.

"It was certainly a party to remember!" said Mrs Howett, who celebrates her birthday today (Thursday).

Back in the 1950s she was the 29th person to move into Harlow when she arrived at her new home in Glebelands.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS: Maisie Howett with two of the firefighters who answered the alarm call (s)

"I remember not very much other than mud and building works," she said. "We had to put our own fencing up round the garden.

"You didn't go shopping; everything was brought to the door from one shop in Burnt Mill."

A YOUNG man who walked into Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital armed with a hammer must wait to learn his fate after being convicted of possessing an offensive weapon in a public place.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told that Lee Oliver planned to attack a man who he claimed had tried to "run him off the road".

John Livingston, prosecuting, said Oliver was seen pacing up and down by paramedics before going in to the accident and emergency department on February 22.

He then told a nurse who approached him that the driver of a Ford Fiesta had tried to knock him off his moped and "he was going to get him".

He later told police he had taken refuge in the hospital after the incident and had taken the claw hammer from the moped's tool kit for self protection after he saw the car follow him into the hospital grounds.

Oliver (20), of St John's

By COURT REPORTER

Road, Harlow, pleaded not guilty to the charge of possessing an offensive weapon in a public place.

Giving evidence, he told the jury that he had problems with the car driver, who he knew as 'Eekie', for about three years and that shortly before the incident he had been punched in the face by the man.

"I went back to my bike and got the hammer out to protect myself," he said. "I went inside the hospital because I thought he might come over. I put the hammer in my pocket because it's not the place to carry a hammer."

Oliver said he would not have used the hammer to attack the man and, in all likelihood, would have run away if he had been approached by him.

However, the jury did not believe Oliver's account and on Monday found him guilty of the charge.

The judge adjourned sentence until next month to allow time for the preparation of reports.

Thousands expected at town fireworks display

HARLOW'S annual fireworks extravaganza will light up the skies above the Town Park on Sunday.

The free display, organised by Harlow Council, will kick off at 6.30pm with live music from the Ten17 roadshow, followed by the lighting of the bonfire at 7.15pm and the fireworks at 7.45pm.

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the environment and community committee, said the display was again being held on the nearest Sunday to November 5 following the success of last year's event, the first time it had not taken place on Bonfire Night.

"It showed that holding the event on a Sunday reduces the disruption to local residents and to motorists, as the traffic flow on Fifth Avenue is lighter than at rush hour on a weekday," he said.

"We also saw an increase in the number of families attending and had one of the biggest crowds for several years."

As well as the fireworks and bonfire, there will be a fun fair and stalls selling refreshments.

Fifth Avenue will be closed to traffic from 6pm and re-open around 10pm to safeguard the large number of spectators arriving on foot at the Town Park showground.

Parking will be available at Pearson Education in Edinburgh Way for a £1 charge. All proceeds will be donated to Harlow Young Carers. A limited number of free disabled parking spaces will be available on the showground up to 6pm.

Vulnerable hit by housing benefits reform, says Tory

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE housing benefit system is failing Harlow's most vulnerable residents, it was claimed this week.

Conservative Parliamentary hopeful Robert Halfon said changes made to the Local Housing Allowance had resulted in a marked increase in the number of private tenants facing eviction after falling behind with their rent.

Since April last year, housing benefits have been paid directly to tenants rather than to their landlords. But Mr Halfon, a prominent supporter of the Harlow homelessness charity Streets2Homes, said vulnerable tenants often struggled to manage their finances and ended up spending their rent money on other things.

"Labour's new housing benefit rules are failing the most vulnerable in our society," he said. "Landlords are put off from renting to those on benefit, slashing the availability of decent places to live."

"Some tenants struggle to manage their finances, using up their benefit money by rent pay day. They get into arrears and trouble as a result."

Mr Halfon argued that tenants should be able to choose to have benefit paid directly to the landlord, a move which he said would increase the availability of quality low-cost housing.

But Harlow MP Bill Rammell dismissed Mr Halfon's assertion that the Conservatives cared more about affordable housing as ridiculous, adding: "I would have thought Mr Halfon would support giving more power and freedom to tenants by paying housing allowance directly to them."

"This brings housing benefit in line with other benefits which are paid directly to recipients, a grown-up approach which entails responsibility and is less 'nanny state'."

"By allowing tenants to profit from finding a good deal, the reform has exposed many landlords to competitive pressures for the first time, helping to secure value for the taxpayer."

Joy's joy at gifts from Wicks

A DISABLED woman who splashed out her life savings on a botched bathroom refurbishment has been showered with free gifts by a DIY store.

Wicks stepped in to help Joy Bedu after her plight was featured in the Star.

The Howard Way store has supplied her with a new shower, tiles and adhesive to put right the mess that was made of her bathroom at her home in Northbrooks, Harlow, by "cowboy" workmen.

Store manager Jamie Robinson said: "I was shocked and appalled to read about Joy's difficulties in the Star and was only too happy to help her out of her predicament.

"Obviously we can't do this sort of thing for everyone but I was so touched by Joy's plight I felt we had to step in and supply her with everything she needs to put the work right."

Local handyman Richard Holloway has already volunteered his services to carry out the work.

Ms Bedu said: "I was absolutely thrilled when Wicks offered to help me out. I'm just looking forward to my nightmare being over and life getting back to normal."

Four decades of music from concert band

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

DO these pictures strike a chord with you?

The Harlow Concert Band has been making melodious music for 40 years now and to celebrate its birthday next month it has sent us these faded photographs.

The band was originally started in November 1969 as a group for young musicians in the Harlow area. But it quickly hit the right note and has now grown into an established ensemble of people of all ages from in and around the town.

Band manager Emma Jones sent in these photographs taken of the band practicing and performing over the years. She is not sure of exactly when they were taken but is hoping Star readers can fill in the gaps.

These days the band normally plays around six concerts a year, with one of the highlights being its performance at the Royal British Legion's annual Service of Remembrance at The Playhouse, which this year takes place on Sunday, November 8.

Band members get together to rehearse every Wednesday evening at the United Reform Church Hall in Harberts Road. Emma said: "The age range of the band is now from university age to early 80s.

"Many started out at school age, went off to university and then came back and joined up again. Others are parents who took up an instrument later in life.

"The band has been run by conductor Michael Pearce since 1975. I have often wondered what would happen to the band if decided he wasn't going to do it any more."

She added: "We are always looking for ways in which to raise our profile within the community and recruit additional musicians as well as supporters to assist in organising concert venues and logistics."

The band is particularly keen on finding a percussionist at the moment.

● If you have any memories of Harlow Concert Band or can shed any light on when and where the pictures were taken, email Nostalgia@star.hertsexnews.co.uk or call us (01279) 400577.

Memories of Miss Sawady

THIS photo was sent in by Maureen White, of Epping Road, Roydon, and shows children at The Spinney Junior and Infants School in Harlow saying farewell to retiring deputy headteacher Ruth Sawady in July 1976.

Miss Sawady came to England from Germany in 1939 and moved to Harlow in 1957.

She was at the school for 17 years and then served with the WRVS for 15 years, running the tea bar at Princess Alexandra Hospital's maternity unit.

She died on September 28 this year at the ripe old age of 93.

● Do you have any memories of Ruth Sawady, either during her time at the school or with the WRVS? If so, please contact us in the usual way.

WHICH WAY TO THE SHOPS?

STEWARDS: There was an international flavour to the Parnall Road school's 4th annual cultural food event when parents, pupils and staff prepared foods from their country of ethnic origin.

Traditional costumes, different languages and delicious foods from Ghana, America, Thailand, China, India, Iran, Ireland, Australia, Italy, Malta, Poland, South Africa and Zimbabwe filled the school hall.

Entertainment was provided by The Efua-Sey Academy and Italian juggler and magician Stephen Hogan.

Assistant headteacher Marie Erwood said: "I am absolutely thrilled with this special event which really says so much about the inclusivity of the Stewards family. "We have more participants than ever and to see so many people here at 5.30pm on a Friday shows genuine commitment and enjoyment. We are planning for next year to be bigger and better than ever." Pictured, top, are Jack Rowley, Josh Wix and Thomas Goodenough and, above, Louise Johnson, Courtney Wallis, Keeley Anderton.

HOLY CROSS PRIMARY: Youngsters at the Traces Road school were given food for thought when they were treated to a visit from a special cooking bus.

The Food for Life project is part of a Lottery-funded scheme to encourage people of all ages to adopt a healthier attitude to food and an improvement in cooking skills.

Pupils heard from qualified food teachers aboard the bus about key aspects of food education and took part in activities on food safety, healthy nutrition advice and hygiene in the vehicle's purpose-built kitchen.

A school spokesperson said: "The cooking bus was a unique experience for all the children and has inspired us all as a flagship school with Food for Life."

"We all enjoyed the visit and will continue to include cookery in the curriculum and involve the parents when possible."

HARLOW CHILDREN'S SUPPORT CENTRE:

Youngsters proved there is more to being eco-friendly when they took part in an array of special activities with the aim of gaining a Green Flag award from Eco-Schools.

Pupils got the chance to showcase their performing talents, compete in a eco-quiz, demonstrate their creativity in a recycled art activity, show off their stamina in sports challenges and taste healthy food. They also witnessed the unveiling of a new eco-garden, a year-long project designed to encourage biodiversity and grow herbs for use in healthy recipes.

Cate Phillips, teacher in charge of the eco-garden project, said: "We are very proud of our students and their achievements. With phenomenal support from Harlow College and generous donations from local businesses, they have created a haven for that will benefit and inspire students for years to come."

OAP's fury at bill for broken fence

A FURIOUS pensioner has been left with a large bill for repairs to a broken fence after furniture was dumped outside his home in preparation for a kerbside pick-up.

Tom Morris (80), of Arkwrights, Harlow, was shocked when he found old mattresses, broken wardrobes, bedsteads and other junk propped up against the garden fence after Harlow Council's maintenance contractor, Kier Harlow, advised residents of a special collection the following day.

The sheer weight of the items caused the fence to buckle and break, leaving Mr Morris facing a £315 repair bill.

His daughter, Elaine Spicer, told the Star: "He was absolutely furious and he has every right to be."

"Kier had put up signs on the grass verge outside his back garden advising people that bins would be put out the following morning specifically for heavy items."

"But some residents saw the sign and decided to put their rubbish out the night before and it wasn't long before it all piled up against dad's fence."

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Mr Morris's family complained to Kier and asked the firm to pay for repairs to the fence. But they were sent a letter stating the contractor was not liable for the damage and laying the blame on those people who had dumped the items.

"Dad was distraught when he received the bill," Ms Spicer added. "There's no way he can afford to pay for the repairs, but what's £315 to a massive organisation like Kier?"

A Kier spokeswoman said it had investigated the incident and decided the damage was caused by "illegal fly-tipping".

"Signage publicising the block cleanse was placed on the council-owned green space on the side of Mr Morris's property one day prior to the block cleanse and clearly stated that all rubbish must be placed in the waste bins provided around the estate," she added.

"Unfortunately, some individuals chose to disregard this information and illegally fly-tipped their waste. We apologise for the inconvenience that this has caused to Mr Morris."

Help is at hand for those in debt

AS part of our partnership with Barclays Money Skills, this week the Star is looking to help readers who are facing a mountain of debt. Priority debts are the ones that people should concentrate on if they are having money problems, advises Gwynneth Tedds, a debt supervisor at the Citizens' Advice Bureau.

Ignoring council tax arrears, rent or mortgage arrears, housing costs such as gas and electricity and court fines could lead to people losing their home.

"Come to us early," says Gwynneth. "The longer clients leave it, the less options there are for dealing with the problem." Credit cards and store cards, as well as personal loans, account for half the debt issues, with bank and building society overdrafts increasing and cases of council tax arrears almost doubling in September.

Minimalism represents a bare look with simple ornamentation and a feeling of 'less is more'. Minimalism is exactly as it sounds - minimal items like the Austin sofas and chair and the cool Penthouse occasional tables from Fishpools. Minimalist style gets its beauty from the simple lines of furniture like the Botelle table & chairs, or the seductive curves of the unique Lexus bed. Making maximum use of different textures and colours with tasteful combinations and clean and smooth finishes is key. The most important rule is to maximize any available space. Choose one or two key accessory pieces and make a real statement.

What a web wonder

SCIENTISTS have stumbled across a new and incredibly rare species of spider in Africa.

It is believed the spider could be the largest orb-web spinner in the world with the ability to spin silken webs measuring around one metre wide.

The female of the species has legs which measure up to 12cm long, yet the male spiders are very small by comparison.

Orb-weaving spiders are fairly well known and get their name from the round webs they spin.

The new spider was identified by Dr Matjaz Kutner, a biologist from the Slovenian Academy of Sciences and Arts, and Jonathan Coddington, from the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of Natural History in Washington DC.

Dr Kutner first identified the spider from a collection belonging to the Plant Protection Research Institute in South Africa in 2000 but then realised it did not match any known species.

In his search through more than 2,500 samples from 37 museums, no further specimens turned up so he assumed the spider must be extinct.

But when a colleague in South Africa found three more of the spiders, it soon became clear they belonged to this same species.

Homeowners cash in on insulation grants while funds still available under Government Scheme

CAVITY WALL INSULATION NOW FROM ONLY £199

As part of its "Carbon Emissions Reduction Target" (CERT) the Government has instructed fuel suppliers to offer insulation grants to homeowners to reduce energy use in the home. We are already half way through the scheme and to ensure the targets are achieved, generous grants are being offered towards the cost of insulating your home.

SAVE ON HEATING BILLS THIS WINTER

Government figures show that up to half of your heat escapes through un-insulated walls. By insulating your cavity walls and loft you can reduce heat loss and cut your heating bills by up to £200 a year. Your house will warm up more quickly and you won't have to keep the heating on for so long. Not only that, you will be saving energy and helping to protect the environment.

GOVERNMENT BACKING

The Department of the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA) issued this statement, "The proof of the success of cavity wall insulation is the large number of householders who enjoy its trouble-free benefits - 5 million homes already have cavity wall insulation."

QUALITY & SERVICE

Castle Point Insulation (CPI) has been insulating homes for over 30 years. The company has a reputation for providing quality installations and high standards of customer service combined with the latest digital-pen technology. In recognition of this, CPI was recently awarded a contract to insulate homes in 20 regions of the UK under Warm Front, a Government funded scheme.

CAVITY WALL INSULATION		PRICE GUIDE
Property Type	NIA Guideline Price	Grant Scheme Price from around
Mid Terraced House	£400	£199
Semi Detached House	£500	£199
Detached Bungalow	£625	£239
Detached House	£650	£249

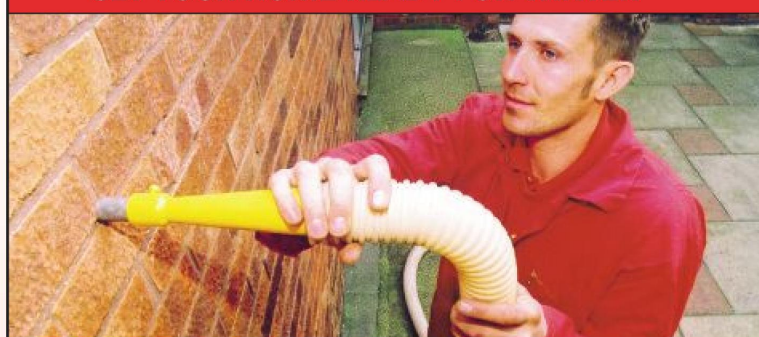

Additional areas over standard m² @£5.00m². Core Vent (when required) £60.
Other property types, prices available on request. No hidden extras.

WHAT IS CAVITY WALL INSULATION?

A trained technician drills small holes in the outside wall. The insulation material is then pumped into the holes using a specialist machine until the cavity is completely filled. The holes are made good to match the existing wall. Once installed, cavity wall insulation requires no maintenance.

GET YOUR HOME READY FOR WINTER

Castle Point's skilled Technicians insulate thousands of homes every year

Castle Point Insulation is able to offer grants for insulation to homeowners; you will receive the same high standards of workmanship and service but at a fraction of the normal cost. It is not necessary to change fuel suppliers in order to qualify; the grants are not means tested and they do not have to be repaid.

- All prices for cavity wall insulation are inclusive of a 25 year CIGA Guarantee
- The Government strongly recommends cavity wall insulation for all suitable existing housing
- There are grants available for loft insulation. The National Insulation Association states loft insulation should be topped up to 270mm (10.5").

FREE TO LOW INCOME HOUSEHOLDS

As part of the Government's Fuel Poverty programme, households in receipt of some income-related benefits or tax credits may be entitled to FREE cavity wall and loft insulation. To qualify, you must own your own home or rent it from a private landlord. Please call for details.

Hospital trust launches new website

PATIENTS will soon be able to access key health information with the launch of Princess Alexandra Hospital's new-look website.

The hospital is re-launching its online presence in a bid to provide more comprehensive information about local healthcare services in a more user-friendly way.

Marketing manager Gaynor Cross said: "In an era where patients can choose where they go for their hospital appointment, it is important that we promote the care and treatment we provide."

"We decided to redesign the site so people could find information more easily."

The new design offers immediate updates on hospital news and access to Choose and Book, the national appointments booking service. It will also feature information on inpatient and outpatient services, consultant profiles and ward details.

Site visitors will also have easier access to important details on visiting times and directions, videos profiling the work of key departments, and updates on the trust's bid to gain Foundation Trust status.

The new site can be accessed by visiting www.pah.nhs.uk.

Join Santa Run to put the fun in fundraising

THE first-ever Santa Run in Harlow is now less than six weeks away.

While for many it may seem a little early to be preparing for Christmas, for the fundraising team at St Clare Hospice in Hastingwood, time is already running out!

The 4km Santa Run, supported by the Star, will take place in the Town Park on December 6. The aim is to raise £23,000, enough to fund St Clare's in-patient unit for a whole week.

The unit can care for up to eight patients at any time and also provides much-needed support to their friends and families.

One family who have already signed up to take part are the Cliftons.

"We sadly lost my mother-in-law last year after a very long battle with cancer," said Debbie Clifton. "Without the support of the hospice she would have suffered a lot more. We were welcomed to come and go as we pleased and everyone was kind and considerate."

"Not only myself but my two daughters are joining me on the Santa Run. Leah is 16 years old and Sadie is 6. They both joined me on the winter walk last year."

Hospice spokesman Giles Wright said: "It's for people such as the Clifton family that we ask people to support our Santa Run so we can continue to be there for hundreds more people during 2010."

"We are there to support not only each patient but also their families just as much. Our work continues all year round, provided free of charge to hundreds of local people which last year included over 250 patients from Harlow alone."

"With an annual running cost of £2.5m and with only 30 per cent of that NHS funded, we heavily rely on the generosity of our local community to enable us to keep going."

The first 500 adults who sign up will get a free Santa suit while the first 100 children will be given a Santa hat.

"Events like this are so important to us as a care providing charity," said Giles. "It may seem like a long way off to Christmas but with this exciting event happening on December 6, it's only six weeks away."

If you want to take part you can sign up online at www.stclarehospice.org.uk.

 Your stars with Patrick Arundell
to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
A little bit of bluster can probably be a good thing from time to time. After all, we come up against people keen to hustle us! Yet even if you are someone who tends to be brusque and no-nonsense in your approach, this week you can be even more direct. If you are, it could set up some confrontations and especially between the generations. Call now for more news and advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
 Finances can show signs of improvement. But try not to be slapdash. You love a bit of luxury and the minute you feel flush enough to spend out, you need to ensure that you have really got enough to spend on non-essentials. With Saturn also joining your sign, and squaring with Pluto, big changes beckon in the next five months in emotional ties. Call now for your financial forecast in full...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
 There can be a lot of conversation going on this week. Some of it you will be at the heart of, whereas others, you may be intently listening in, or may be asked to adjudicate on two friends who are squabbling. Trying to find a sense of balance in your relationships or of fairness, are the central themes. If you can be diplomatic Taurus, it will help no end. Call for your in-depth forecast...

 Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
The Sun and Mercury are giving you a lot of get up and go, but if you're too direct it can prove to be self defeating. The Full Moon can see someone put out by your new found vigour. The problem is Scorpio that any opposition to your plans or you personally, isn't necessarily going to be shown in an upfront and open way. Keep your eyes peeled. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

 Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Some people will read a book slowly, picking over every word, whilst others are avid page turners and keen to race to the end. In all ways, it's about how we assimilate information. Bear this in mind now. For you can find yourself too easily focusing on how the story is written, rather than the story line itself. Keeping a grip on the big picture is essential. Call me now for more news and advice...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
 However much you have been absolutely certain that you are on the right track, some aspirations that you have striven years for, can start to lose their sparkle. If this does happen, you may need to go through a period of transition before you are certain of what to do next. If so, don't be too hard on yourself. In time, things will work out for the best. Call your prediction line for more astral advice...

 Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23

If you are footloose and fancy free, life can indeed seem full of upbeat and buzzy fun. However, lurking under this is a very tricky and potent Saturn/Pluto link which can suck you into a whirlpool of relationship and family complications - if you are not too careful. In an on-going tie, some kind of crunch point may be reached. Look beneath the froth Cancer. Call now for your love scope in full...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
 You can get caught this week. Part of you may be happy to pursue a sociable strand, but there can be very real opportunities to get ahead, which you can seize, but it will require your considerable powers of concentration and this can see your time and focus compromised. What can be said is that there will be times to relax further into the future. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

 Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Mars is going to be like a breath of fresh air in your sign, one which blows through your situation right up until the middle of next year. But...just occasionally it will blow up a storm, and this week it tangles directly with Mercury and closely with the Sun. Around all practicalities, be sensitive to those around you. You may easily be subjective, triggering tensions. Call now for more news...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
 You can be gregarious and friendly, but there can also be a side of you that prefers some moments alone from time to time. And this can be a week when you get pulled into the limelight, just at a moment, when you can feel really delicate. Have the faith that events are taking you in the direction you need. You just can't fully control your environment. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

 Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Someone who is used to getting their own way may need challenging. Say what you mean, and mean what you say, but you have a crisp way of looking at life, and sometimes to them, it may seem that this is rather too sharp edged. If you're too quick to blurt out your take, you may end up regretting it – or find, that they'll respond in kind. Call your special Virgo prediction line for more advice.

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
All connections are based on mutual benefits. If there are imbalances, they may come up from now. So, if anyone is possessive of your time and space, you could start to resent it. Then again, you too need to understand that your friends are free to pursue other avenues. No-one owns anyone. Yet if things need discussing, do so with a light touch. Pisces. Call now for more news and astral advice.

for all lifestyles

THIS individually designed three-bedroom town house is positioned in a prime location overlooking St Nicholas Green within the award-winning development of Newhall.

The property has been stylishly upgraded by the present owners, with new contemporary bathrooms, landscaped gardens and immaculate décor throughout.

The accommodation comprises an entrance hall with staircase to the first floor, cloakroom with low flush WC, enclosed cistern and wall-mounted designer wash hand basin, and kitchen/family room (23'10 x 12'6).

This bright room with double glazed patio doors to the side garden features a quality fitted kitchen with an extensive range of both wall and base units, composite work surface, stainless steel double oven and five-ring gas hob, stainless steel extractor hood, integrated dishwasher and a wine fridge. The dining area has space for a large table and chairs.

A separate utility room (7'4 x 6'10) features a range of wall and base units, composite work surface with inset bowl and mixer tap, and plumbing for both tumble dryer and washing machine.

The first floor living room (23'10 x 15'10) is another bright room, well lit by French doors leading to a side balcony.

On this floor there are also two bedrooms (15'10 x 9'4, 9'10 x 9'4) and a bathroom with high-quality suite comprising WC and enclosed cistern with surface mounted flush, a walk-in shower cubicle, Mira shower, tiled enclosed bath with central mixer tap and shower attachment, built-in vanity wash hand basin with freestanding bowl and a heated towel rail.

The master bedroom (18'2 x 16') is located on the second floor and features a vaulted ceiling, exposed beams, built-in wardrobes and dressing room with hanging rail and shelving. The en suite bathroom features a white suite comprising panel bath with mixer tap, shower attachment, low flush WC and vanity wash hand basin with cabinet below.

Within the past 18 months the garden has been beautifully landscaped, secluded by walls and fencing which extends around the side of the property. There is a sandstone patio with granite edges and slate path, lawn, mature shrubs and trees and herbaceous borders and trailing flowers. There is also a wooden gate to the driveway, outside lighting and tap. To the front, the garden has a selection of lavenders and slate beds.

The property also benefits from a single detached garage with up-and-over door, light and power, with parking to the side.

Craig's palace performance is fit for the Queen

HARLOW dance sensation Craig Whymark performed in front of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh in the first ever Bollywood act to be seen at Buckingham Palace.

Craig (33), of Pittman's Field, who has made his mark on the commercial dance scene having worked alongside Girls Aloud for three years, danced in a condensed version of Nutkuth's show Bollywood Steps for the Royals.

The 15-minute performance was specially adapted for the largest of the palace's 775 rooms and was part of the reception for a state visit by the president of the Republic of India.

Craig said: "I couldn't believe we were being asked to do it.

"It was top-secret at first and we weren't allowed to say anything about it. We got coded emails with 'p' referring to the palace.

"We'd been told the Queen wanted an act that would fit nicely in the space and she had been shown clips of the show on YouTube."

Despite having performed to an audience of thousands at Wembley Arena, Craig said performing in front of the Queen was more nerve-wracking.

"During the performance the Queen was about 10-foot away from us and afterwards we were told that she would like to meet the dancers," he said.

"We were told to be normal but I was so nervous my hands were sweating! She stopped and spoke to me and asked how long I'd been dancing for.

"When I told her I'd been with the company for four years she smiled and said that it must be energetic!"

"For anyone who wants to get into this industry - and it's a very difficult profession to get into - there's no better way to get started," Kevin told the Star. "I moved to Harlow when I was just a kid and owe so much to the training I got from the great Leo Kersley, who at the time was running the Harlow Ballet Association.

"The academy is my way of saying thank you to a town that has given me so much, and if I can do for even one kid what Leo did for me it will have been a success."

But those interested in securing a place in one of Kevin's classes will need to act fast as he has already had a flood of applications.

"I'm amazed at how quickly things have happened," he added. "We've already got over 60 students signed up. I just can't wait to get the school up and running; it's going to be brilliant."

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S ANIMAL HOUSE John Landis' raunchy 1978 frat-house comedy tickles the funny bone in digital cinemas for a limited time.

THE IMAGINARIUM OF DOCTOR PARNASSUS certificate 12A 2h03m

THERE is no escaping the uncomfortable truth that audiences will flock to The Imaginarium Of Doctor Parnassus to witness the final performance of Oscar-nominated actor Ledger before his accidental drug overdose.

Director Terry Gilliam's picture was part-way through principal photography when the world lost one of its brightest talents.

Gilliam, whose films have been bedevilled by bad luck throughout the years, took the decision to rework the script, casting three actors (Johnny Depp, Jude Law and Colin Farrell) as stand-ins for the absent star in three dream-like sequences.

The result is a film that is every bit disjointed and befuddling as it is visually arresting and fanciful.

Immortal soothsayer Doctor Parnassus (Christopher Plummer) bargained with The Devil (Tom Waits) many centuries ago and now Old Nick has come to collect the soul of his teenage daughter Valentina (Lily Cole), who works on a travelling circus fronted by Parnassus and his assistants Anton (Andrew Garfield) and Percy (Verne Troyer).

To keep The Devil at bay, Parnassus must win the souls of five strangers by inviting them through his magic mirror into a world beyond their wildest imagination.

Suicidal Tony (Ledger) could be the first through the looking-glass but where will the soothsayer find the others?

With thoughts of Ledger lingering uneasily in the mind, The Imaginarium Of Doctor Parnassus is a strangely voyeuristic experience that starts with a chill when we see his character hanging from a noose beneath Blackfriars Bridge in London.

In truth, Ledger is a supporting player in this haphazard tale. Plummer, Garfield and Cole are centre stage, the latter impressing as a child doomed to suffer the sins of her father.

Depp and Law barely have any screen time while Farrell fares slightly better and captures the mannerisms and vocal patterns of Ledger to provide a clear link.

Animated sequences and production design are top notch, but the two-hour running time tests our patience. We want so much to be lost in Gilliam's waking dream, but the tragic nightmare behind every frame haunts us.

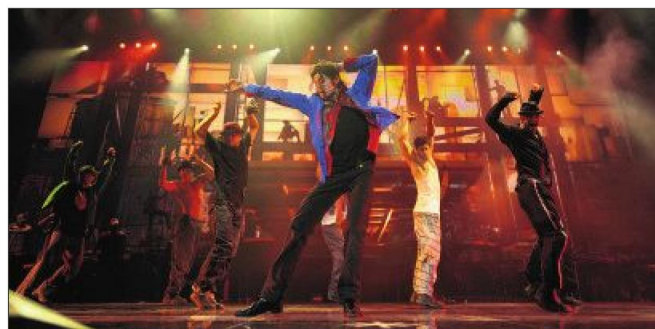

Fans' final farewell to King of Pop

MICHAEL JACKSON'S THIS IS IT certificate PG 1h51m

THE death of Michael Jackson in June, shortly before a planned series of 50 sellout concerts at the O2 Arena in London, sent shockwaves around the world, denying fans one last chance to see The King of Pop live on stage.

With the full support of the singer's estate, this revealing documentary offers a glimpse at what might have been, drawing upon hundreds of hours of backstage and rehearsals footage shot predominantly in June at Staples Center in Los Angeles and The Forum in Inglewood, California.

The film, captured in high definition with state-of-the-art digital sound and with selected sequences in 3D, reveals the tricks and illusions that the late singer had planned for his This Is It concerts, choreographed by Kenny Ortega, intercut with interviews with some of Jackson's closest friends and creative collaborators.

Subaru's lasting Legacy

Subaru Legacy might be a new brand but the familiar design cues from generations past are all present in it. IAIN DOOLEY finds out more.

THERE'S something strangely reassuring about seeing a Subaru on the road these days. Not a super-quick Impreza turbo rally weapon mind, but a regular Legacy.

The Impreza is still considered by many to be a performance icon whereas people have sometimes left the Legacy in the shadows, unfamiliar with Japanese company's exploits away from the rally special stage.

It's fair to say the Legacy is something of an informed choice. It would be cruel to make direct comparisons with the likes of Ford's Mondeo or Vauxhall's Insignia. Although fine cars in their own right, they lack the all-weather appeal of the Legacy thanks to the Subaru's all-wheel drive.

Enough of the sales pitch – this latest generation Legacy still has to earn its keep. In true Subaru style the updates are subtle when viewed from the outside, although the changes are obvious. The car might be new but the familiar design cues from generations past are all present: the upright stance, prominent headlamps and a cabin boasting a generous amount of glass.

Two things you won't see this time around are frameless windows and a saloon version. Call it a pragmatic decision on both counts; conventional doors and windows are no doubt more cost effective while the estate variant was also the more popular and practical.

So, Legacy estate it is then. Or, as Subaru calls it, the Legacy Tourer. And what a good choice it is. Everything has grown slightly over the previous generation car which means occupants benefit from a little more cabin space and the load bay is as generous as ever. Frankly, the latter observation is key to the car's past and, hopefully, continued success. Quite a few people view the Legacy as much as a workhorse as a refined and well built passenger car. In this 'work' guise, the Legacy is as rugged as they come.

It's also a refined experience – witness the revamped cabin and fascia. It strikes a sensible balance between compact executive level pricing and the need to be durable.

No such compromises, no matter how well executed, are present in the engine department. One thing no other mainstream car maker can boast of is a line-up of 'boxer' engines. The horizontally opposed piston layout is a particular Subaru selling point. Yes, Porsche also does a fine line in boxer engines, but we're not talking high performance coupes here. With the added benefits of more torque and a lower centre of gravity than your average transverse mounted engine, this boxer concept is more than just hype. In practical terms it contributes towards the Legacy's surefooted handling and the power delivery is smooth, consistent and comes with the unique boxer exhaust note.

Along with the 2.5-litre, 167 horsepower petrol motor there is a diesel option. This is still quite a new addition to Subaru's tool kit but one that's been warmly welcomed by the faithful.

Aside from being unique in the market, the four-cylinder unit boasts 150 horsepower and 258lb/ft of torque, more than enough for everyday tasks and battling the elements in the middle of nowhere.

For something hooked up to a four-wheel drive system it's also pretty economical. Boasting 161g/km CO₂ and 46.3mpg, this is one all-wheel drive that won't break the bank.

Another new addition to the range is a continuously variable transmission for the petrol variant. Although an unusual choice, it works well. In fact, you could apply that observation to the Legacy as a whole. Subaru has never sought to be just another mainstream car maker. The fact that it will sell you a Mondeo-size estate car complete with four-wheel drive remains part of its unique appeal.

Add the boxer engines – especially the diesel unit – plus the clever blend of durability and refinement, and you've got yourself a car that can be bought with both the head and the heart.

Boss and player see red in loss

Sawbridgeworth Tn 0,
 Bethnal Green Utd 4

Essex Senior Football League

By David Rimmer

ROBINS boss Peter Wickham was dismissed from the dug-out and Ted Llewellyn was also sent off during Sawbridgeworth Town's heavy home defeat against Bethnal Green United.

The hosts had just gone 2-0 behind after 58 minutes when tempers boiled over on Saturday.

Before the game was re-started there was a delay of three minutes.

Referee Steve Livingstone was alerted to an incident by his assistant. After a brief consultation, Robins left-back Llewellyn was sent off for allegedly abusing the linesman.

Wickham then protested vehemently to Mr Livingstone who spoke to him and eventually brandished another red card and banished the Robins boss from the touchline.

Wickham claimed: "I criticised the ref and got carried away but did not swear at him. Ted was only asking the linesman, 'Are you watching the game?' [after an appeal for off-side was turned down]."

"It was a yellow card at most and he did not swear. I feel sorry for him [Llewellyn]."

Tempers were already frayed after Sawbridgeworth's Harry Sintim sustained a calf injury when Bethnal Green's Leon Ryan fouled him and was booked. Sintim's injury required lengthy treatment.

Earlier, Llewellyn headed wide from close range on three minutes, but Bethnal were the better side and kept the ball very

The visitors scored on 20 minutes when the Sawbo defence allowed striker Marlon Campbell too much space and he curled a 23-yard shot into the far corner.

At the other end, a Joss Albone volley struck the outside of a Bethnal post on 43 minutes.

Bethnal's second goal came on 68 minutes when Ajibola Olatunbosun headed in.

The lively Kadir Jama then lobbed Robins keeper Jamie Ring on 75 minutes.

Jama rounded off the scoring with a powerful finish past Ring on 87 minutes.

Sawbridgeworth's Matt Hayter and Ashley Conlan were both booked for dissent.

 Essex Senior League

ABOUA Boua had a hand in all three home goals as a weakened Sawbridgeworth Town side slipped to defeat against Enfield 1893 on Wednesday last week.

The Robins went behind on three minutes when Boua's cross from the left provided Neil Hughes with a simple tap-in.

Enfield doubled their advantage on 16 minutes. Sawbo keeper Jamie Ring was adjudged to have fouled Hughes and was cautioned as a penalty was awarded.

Ring saved Boua's spot-kick but the Enfield man followed up to net the rebound.

The scoring was rounded off on 71 minutes when Boua headed home from a free-kick.

SAWBRIDGEWORTH TN: Ring, Flavin, Hogarth, J. Day, Godden, Longley, Baker, Fraser, Udofia (Albone 27), Conlan, Balogun (L. Hayter 72).

Hawks lose to 'ex' factor

On 82 minutes, Harlow almost pinched a consolation when Charlie Simpson's corner set up Akinnawo whose header was nodded off the line by Good.

Instead said: "Rickelle Christian was sensational for us on his debut. He tackled aggressively and can pass the ball well and Joe Clemo was also very good for us.

"I had a few central defenders but Eyang Tamberson did very well for us there. We came close to scoring and had enough in terms of possession to get something out of the game but we lacked a cutting edge. We did not create enough up front."

He added: "Their goals were not special and we caused our own problems. When we switch off we pay for it but when other teams switch off we do not make them pay.

"It was disappointing to lose. This was a six-pointer and, as I have said before, the success of a season depends on results against teams around you."

HARLOW TN: Waite, Christian, Clemo, Pelley (Abraham 80), Tamberson, Lambert (Doonan 45), Akinnawo, Thompson, Mason, Robinson (Edwards 76), Simpson. Subs not used: Clarey, Adegbite.

Anglers fish stretch of Thames for first time in 20 years!

THE Stort Valley Angling Society returned to fish a stretch of the River Thames after a 20-year absence.

Laleham was the venue for the Harlow club.

However, conditions were not in favour of a productive outing.

Sixteen anglers netted a meagre 26lbs 11ozs, with Danny Cruse in top spot with 7lbs 10z.

He was just over a pound ahead of Bob Groom in second place, with Roy Deadman third with 4lbs 6ozs.

The prestigious Royalty fishery on

Angling

Hampshire's River Avon, famous for its big barbel, was the venue for the club's annual 'Special' outing.

Malcolm Gregg was certainly pleased he attended because he netted a life-time best barbel weighing 13lbs 3ozs!

He was so determined the fish wouldn't escape he ended up to his midriff in the river to net it.

Carl Twaites also bagged a good double figure fish.

Jones on fairway to England ranks

CANONS Brook golfer Steve Jones is hopeful he can break into the England U-18 squad next season, writes DAVID RIMMER.

The 17-year-old Leventhorpe School student is currently playing in the prestigious Faldo Series Junior Challenge tournament in Rio de Janeiro in Brazil.

But he recently attended an Eastern Region training session at Woodhall Spa in

Golf

Brook when they defeated Warley Park to lift the trophy.

Jones said: "It was a shame to miss out for the club but they understood why I did it and it is a step up to do the training."

The teenager was able to concentrate on improving his short game and there were video facilities and two teaching pros for help. "I had been to one of these before."

It was up to us to practise by ourselves and approach them [the pros] for help and I also worked with my coach [Gary Pike]," he said.

"I was able to concentrate on shots from 60 to 100 yards and it has helped my short game."

Jones did not enter the Daily Telegraph junior golf tournament this year.

He came third in the Abu Dhabi final last year after qualifying from the UK round after shooting six under in a junior tournament.

"I was playing in another event on the same day as the junior event at Canons Brook [qualifier] this year," he said.

Youngster on right track after reaching UK Karting Champ final

SPEED KING: Racer Christopher Boxall with his karting trophies and memorabilia (HSP0604857)

A TEENAGE racer from Harlow is starting to make tracks on the national karting stage.

Mark Hall School student Christopher Boxall (14) has reached the Grand Final of the prestigious UK National Karting Championship.

He was second in the semi-final at Lakeside in Essex and is now looking forward to the final which is being staged at Milton Keynes' Daytona Raceway on November 8.

Christopher reached the quarter-finals of the Championship after winning a race at Brentwood.

He also achieved two third-place podium finishes and was named most improved driver in a winter series.

Christopher has been studying at the Brentwood academy as a senior driver for about 14 months and in that time he was second out of 45 drivers in the All-Star Cup Championship which is run every 12 weeks at the Essex venue.

His mum Joanna West said: "Until 14 months ago he had never driven a go-kart anywhere."

Alemite maintain good run

ALEMITE Athletic continued their recent good form with a 5-2 defeat of Shelly Royals in the Essex Junior Cup first round.

Scorers were Lewis Eaglestone (2), Shane Bartram (2) and Simon Hewitt.

Hatfield Heath bowed out of the competition after a 3-1 home loss against Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League rivals North Weald.

Frank Major (2) and Matt Clarke were on target for Weald, while Andy Bartram replied for Hatfield.

In the premier division, Roydon Weekes and B. Ward struck as Old Street held hosts Loughton to a 2-2 draw.

Birchanger are the new leaders in division one after a resounding 6-1 victory at home to Pelly House.

In division two, Albury beat Hertfordshire Rangers 3-1.

Other results:- Essex Junior Trophy, 1st rnd: Epping III 0, Alemite Ath res 3 (Sean Warren 2, Ben Patman); Frontiers 3 (Jamie Gollidge, Ryan Brown, Lewis Pablow), North Weald res 4 (Jason Pottle 3, George Atrilly); Shelly Royals res 0, Sheering res 7.

Div two: Lower St 0, Dunmow Rhodes 1; Potter St res 3 (Craig Moss, Paul Stenning 2), Thaxted Rangers res 3.

Great run for Jephcott

HARLOW Running Club member Jamie Jephcott finished outside his personal best (PB) in the BUPA Great South Run. Jephcott completed the 10-mile event in Portsmouth in one hour, seven minutes and 54 seconds.

This was just a week after he ran in the Abingdon Marathon.

Fellow Harlow RC member David Croly clocked a PB of 1:12.02 on the South Coast.

The race was won by Great Britain international Mo Farah (46:25).

Squash team are defeated

CLOSE rivals Chantry Squash Club proved too strong for Harlow's second team and won 4-1 in division five of the Herts League.

Fifth string Greg Wright went down three sets to one.

Fourth string Rob Coghlan also lost by this score.

Third string Keely Peacock was defeated in a deciding fifth set.

Second string Peter Izatt lost 3-1 before first string Vinh Tram salvaged some pride with a commanding 15-8, 15-9, 11-15, 15-12 win.

Slow starter Hawk eyes thrilling win

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday October 30).

A LARGE number of puppies have come onto the racing scene at Harlow over the last couple of weeks and a few look well worth supporting this Friday night.

BUGLYS HAWK is the first to focus on as he finds himself in the least competitive race of the night.

This youngster has bags of pace but can often hinder his chances with very slow starts.

This negative may not be a problem in this particular contest as the pace-makers won't get too far ahead of him and he can have them in his sights earlier than usual. He can thrill supporters with a last to first victory.

A more straight forward selection is the Kim Marlow trained DAINTY SWIFT who seemed to know her job from the moment she arrived at Harlow.

Her main asset is her fast breaks and she can put daylight between herself and her rivals early on. A comfortable all the way success is expected.

ARDMAYLE FREIGHT and NO JOKE CORBETT are other Kim Marlow trained greyhounds worth keeping an eye out for this Friday.

Selections: 7.30pm Clune Ted; 7.45pm Serenity Sam; 8pm Ronnies Kate; 8.15pm Buglys Hawk; 8.30pm Dainty Swift; 8.45pm Springwood Line; 9pm No Joke Corbett; 9.15pm Ah Sure Jo; 9.30pm Ardmayle Freight; 9.45pm Vigorous Amy; 10pm On Theriver King; 10.15pm No Joke Ronan.

Rams defeat local rivals Clapton

Youth rugby

THE Young Rams claimed a thrilling 19-12 home victory against local rivals Upper Clapton Colts.

The hosts attacked from the first whistle and kept the visitors pinned in their own half for almost the whole of the first half.

Despite the continuous assault on their lines Clapton defended with great courage and skill and kept the score down to one penalty, kicked unerringly through the uprights by outside half Danny Smith.

Harlow created many chances but could not overcome a big Clapton pack and some excellent line-out work from the visitors.

Harlow had two other penalty attempts but on a windy day Smith missed by narrow margins.

The Young Rams returned to attack in the second half and were soon rewarded with a try. Following a scrummage, the ball was spun out to inside centre Chris Turner, who cut inside and scored.

Smith's conversion gave Harlow a 10-0 lead. Smith kicked two penalties before the visitors worked their way into Harlow territory and scored two tries, one of which was converted.

A fourth Smith penalty concluded the scoring.

The injury-hit Harlow U-16s were beaten 17-37 at home to Datchworth.

The visitors loaned players to Harlow.

Although the Young Rams were outplayed for much of the match, they performed with spirit and defended well and scored three tries through Luke O'Len, centre Jamie Sinfield and winger Alex Swift, who was making his debut.

Albert Branstone also made his debut. Fly-half Ryan Matthew added one conversion.

Woodford U-15s ran up nearly a century of points against a deflated Harlow U-15s team.

The injury-hit Junior Rams were given a lesson in 15-as side rugby by a powerful, skilful and very successful team.

One of the top teams in the county, Woodford ran out 90-0 victors.

Bad start and late score deflates Harlow

Harlow Hawks 58, Enfield Mercs 60
Herts County Cup, group game

A TERRIBLE start was the main factor in Harlow Hawks' narrow home defeat to Enfield Mercs in their opening Herts County Cup group match.

Hawks only scored once in the opening quarter on Friday, while Enfield made the most of their opportunities.

The hosts missed a lot of shots on the offensive end and were not challenging for rebounds either.

Hawks trailed 14-2 going into the second quarter.

Alex Hinds and Nick Moss scored a three-pointer each to get the scoreboard moving for Harlow.

However, a number of unanswered scores by Mercs extended the visitors' lead. For the last five minutes of the quarter Paul Jessop, Hinds and Zaf Niaz reduced the deficit to 20-30 at half-time.

The third quarter saw the Hawks greatly improve.

In defence they kept Mercs scoreless for the first six minutes, and at the other end notched 14 points to take a four-point lead.

Mike Freeman and Dave Spashett were the main contributors for Harlow in this busy period.

The teams exchanged baskets and Hawks were ahead (44-43) going into the final quarter.

Fortunes continued to fluctuate and Hawks led by a point before Mercs hit a three-pointer with one minute left.

Hawks' desperate attempts to score proved fruitless and they suffered defeat.

"We dug ourselves too big a hole in the first quarter to get out of," fumed player-coach Shab Niaz.

HARLOW HAWKS: Jessop (18 pts), S Niaz (8), Spashett (7), Freeman (6), Hinds (6), Moss (5), Haddow (2), Jones (2), Allan (2), Z Niaz (2), Burgess.

Superb year for Harlow athletes

IT has been a superb year for athletics in Harlow, and the cream of a very impressive crop of talented young sports men and women is Andrew Osagie and his continued progress.

The latest UK rankings have placed him fifth in the country in the 800m and top in the Eastern Region.

Osagie (21), of Northbrook, pulled off a fantastic win in the AAAs Under 23s Championships at Bedford, beating the much-fancied Paul Bradshaw from Blackburn into second place as he put behind him his injury problems with his strongest season to date, running a new personal best (PB) time of 1 mins 47.15s.

Osagie is targeting next year's Commonwealth Games in Delhi and the European Championships.

Harlow College student Billy Falconer (16) is the reigning All England and UK Schools U-17 high jump champion.

He is also top of the East

Region in his age group and 4th in the UK after leaping a massive 1.96m this year.

Billy will be targeting the World Junior Championships next year.

Markus Hunt (19) brought home a gold medal at the European Junior Championships after his Great Britain team won the 4x400m relay race in Serbia.

He is third in the men's U-20 age group in the East Region and ranked 11th in the UK. His top time this year in the 400m was 48.11s.

Harlow's Shane Storey is ranked No.1 in the East Region. He leapt 6.40m in the U-17 boys long jump this year.

Nine other Harlow youngsters have made progress in their chosen field in the East Region rankings.

They are: Tom Richards (16) javelin 54.78m 2nd U-17 boys; Tom Larkin (16) 400m 51.7s 9th U-17 boys; James Palmer (14) hammer 33.42m 7th U-15 boys; Dan Yaxley (16) 1,500m steeplechase 4 mins 47.5, 3rd U-17 boys; Sophie Fuhr 300m 42.5s 10th and 400m 60.9s 6th U-17 girls; Alexandra Hill 300m 41.8s, 3rd U-17 girls; Joshua Steel shot put 10.21m (Harlow Athletic club record) 3rd U-13 boys; Marleen Avontuur 800m 2 mins 31.75s 6th U-13 girls; Amelia Barrett 8th 1,200m 4 mins 12.9s, 8th U-13 girls.

North Weald's Joanne Ryan (400m 54.91s 3rd East Region senior women) and Epping 18-year-old Kathrine Foy (800m, 2 mins 12.7s, 4th U-20 Women in East Region) have also made progress.

"To see so many youngsters across our town doing so well is a great advert for our sport and with the Olympics only three years away our top four must have aspirations of competing on the big stage," beamed Harlow-based athletics coach John Stow.

● AMELIA Barrett is to represent Essex in the U-13 girls in the Southern Inter Counties Cross Country race on Saturday November 21 at Parliament Hill Fields in North London race.

Essex final awaits Langley after town tag rugby triumph

TWENTY-eight teams representing 23 primary and junior schools competed in the Harlow School Sports Partnership's tag rugby final.

Defending champions Church Langley School triumphed in the final after three hours of free-flowing entertaining rugby involving more than 300 school children staged at Harlow Rugby Club last Thursday. Church Langley will now move onto the Essex county final involving 14 teams at Southend RFC on November 26.

Church Langley were one of four pool winners from two hours of skillful rugby, played in great spirit.

The others were St James A, St Luke's A and Jerouds A.

These four contested the final pool in a series of round-robin matches. Church Langley beat Jerouds 20-5, St James 20-15 and St Luke's 15-5 to seal the silverware.

All remaining schools were placed in pools dependent on their placing in the qualifying competition and went on to compete against opposition of similar quality.

Competition manager Dave Roberson said: "It was fantastic seeing so many young people playing rugby and enjoying themselves.

"The competitive edge was there for all to see and it made for a number of fascinating inter-school clashes. I'd like to publicly thank Harlow RFC for both hosting the event, and supplying the match officials who worked tirelessly throughout the day."

George Gardiner, the Harlow School Sports Partnership Manager, added: "It's wonderful to see so many school children from Harlow participating in a sporting competition."

Some three-pointers either side of Ironwolf scores gave the Hawks an early 13-6 lead.

A couple of three-pointers managed to reduce the Hawks lead to 27-23 at the end of the first quarter.

Ironwolf managed to cut the lead further before Zaf Niaz stepped up to hit a three-pointer.

Stung, King's Lynn went on an 11-2 run to take the lead before a pair of Russ Allan free throws tied up the scores.

Mark Haddow then responded to another Ironwolf score before the visitors finished the half strongly with a 9-1 run that left Hawks trailing 47-39 at half-time.

Harlow responded brilliantly after the break with excellent team basketball in the first three minutes of the third quarter as they put in a number of defensive stops and got up the floor at speed on the fast break.

Great ball movement led to Russ Allan finishing with either a lay-up or short jump shot on each occasion and the deficit was cut to a single point.

The lead changed hands on six occasions during the remainder of the quarter as the teams scrapped it out.

A pull-up jump shot from Nick Moss and a post move score from Haddow put Hawks in the driving seat.

But Ironwolf's reply was instant as they hit back to back three-pointers before more great play in the post by Haddow as part of a 7-0 run gave Hawks the lead once more.

Once again Ironwolf responded only for Allan and Dave Spashett (three-pointer) to score.

Ironwolf finished the third quarter well and were 66-62 up heading into the final break.

The first five minutes of the final quarter was a shoot-out from long range with the exception of a single free-throw point from Haddow.

Ironwolf then scored five times from beyond the arc to take a nine-point lead which was stretched to 13 before an Allan score with three minutes left.

Niaz's men refused to give up and out-scored the visitors 12-6 but this was not enough as they fell six points short.

HARLOW HAWKS: S. Niaz (23 pts), Allan (14), Haddow (13), Freeman (12), Moss (9), Z. Niaz (5), Spashett (3), Jones (2), Norkelinas (2), Burgess, Lemmings, Beet.

It's the 'ex' factor

Former stars return to haunt Hawks

A TRIO of ex-Hawks players bestowed more misery on Anthony Anstead's struggling side as Harlow Town were convincingly beaten in a six-pointer by fellow strugglers Brentwood.

Winger Dee Okojie – one of a posse of players bombed out by former Hawks boss Glen Alzapiedi last season – rounded off the scoring in Tuesday's reverse at Barrows Farm.

Along with Okojie, the Brentwood line-up included ex-Harlow keeper James Hasell and midfielder Ross Parmenter.

Harlow remain rooted to the foot of the table and are now six points behind second-from-bottom neighbours Ware.

Meanwhile, Anstead has lost centre-half Joe O'Cearuill, who has quit for Ryman premier side Boreham Wood.

Going the opposite way is right-back Rickelle Christian, who made his Harlow debut against Brentwood, while midfielder Jordan Lambert was given a first start.

Ola Akinnowa was a threat for Harlow, coming closest to scoring three times but Brentwood were more cohesive and exposed Hawks' defensive frailties.

The hosts' weakest point was at set-pieces; they conceded two goals from corners.

Harlow created openings and came close to scoring on 23 minutes when a Jason Mason corner from the left found Akinnowa whose header was cleared off the line.

Brentwood's Patric Elbi fired wide from close range on 30 and 37 minutes and in between Akinnowa broke clear on the left before shooting wide of the near post.

The deadlock was broken by the visitors on 44 minutes. Rikki Holmes' corner from the left deflected off a Harlow player and Brentwood skipper Steve Good fired home through a group of players from 10 yards.

On 56 minutes, Kris Lee nodded on for Elbi who rounded Hawks keeper Jamie Waite but then fired a shot wide.

Brentwood doubled their advantage on 67 minutes when Elbi set up Lee, who exploited a dormant Harlow defence to tuck past Waite from 12 yards.

Two minutes later, an Akinnowa shot beat Hasell but struck the woodwork before Brentwood completed the scoring to go 3-0 ahead on 76 minutes.

A Holmes corner was nodded onto the bar by Lee before Okojie stabbed home at the second attempt.

Fourth league loss for Rams

Norwich 11, Harlow Tn 7

corner preceded a pass which was dropped by Zola Kahlipha and Rams flanker Shaun Roberts pounced to touch down.

In-form fly-half Michael Dobson converted, putting Harlow 7-3 ahead. Four minutes later, Micklethwaite kicked his second penalty.

Neither defence was breached for the remainder of the first half and Harlow led 7-6 at the break.

In the second half, the Rams failed to get any platform up front.

They struggled to get clean line-out ball which could have created opportunities to get their normally effective rolling maul game going.

Norwich started to run the ball among their backs, causing Harlow problems. And a good pass out to their winger allowed him to out-pace the tiring Harlow defence to touch down for an unconverted try near the corner and put Norwich 11-7 ahead on 72 minutes.

Harlow could not conjure another score.
